WE BELIEVE IN CLEAN

GreenLife™ started with one goal in mind: to bring healthy cooking within everyone's reach.

We're dedicated to making every meal a little fresher, a little healthier, and a little better. From our healthy ceramic nonstick cookware to our time-saving appliances, our eye-catching products bring a pop of color to your kitchen so you can make any meal your own.

WE MAKE EVERYTHING HEALTHY

We think healthy cooking matters, so we did something about it. Not to brag, but our ceramic nonstick coating is a healthy revolution.

It starts with sand. Yes, like a beach. And our process doesn't introduce PFAS, PFOA, or any of the other chemicals with unpronounceable names you only know by acronyms. That's why our coating won't release toxins—we took them out of the recipe.

With GreenLife, everything you make will be a little healthier. And we think that's pretty cool.

REFRESHINGLY EASY

Our ceramic nonstick keeps things simple.

You don't have to worry about sticky pans. Our coating heats quickly and food releases easily so messes are just wiped away. It's even dishwasher safe if things get really dirty.

This quick-heating construction offers instant results and the durable forged bases prevent these pans from warping and wobbling over time.

THE ENVIRONMENT IS OUR FRIEND

Our pans are made of recycled aluminum because we want to do our part.

That's also why 30% of our factory's energy comes from solar panels and we have our own treatment plant to filter and reuse industrial wastewater.

But that's not all. Our ceramic nonstick starts with sand and creates 60% less CO2 emissions than traditional coatings during the curing phase. How's that for green?

LIGHTEN UP

And with GreenLife, you can cook with less oil and butter. A little goes a long way!

Our ceramic nonstick coating makes it easier to drop a dab of oil in and call it a day. You get the taste without all the added fat, so you're not pouring a bunch of oil in hoping your food won't stick. It just doesn't stick.

COOK IN COLOR

We believe your kitchen should inspire the chef in you.

That's why we love the color. It makes you want to create, it pulls you in and pushes you to make something new and exciting.

From the cozy colors of a farmer's market to nature's vibrant tones, your cookware should be as inviting as your meals are.

IT'S ALL IN THE DETAILS

If it's ever been a problem in your kitchen, we've thought about it.

Our pans are fitted with extra comfy handles because we want you to have total control. Our glass lids give you an easy look at your meal in progress because how it's going shouldn't be a guessing game.

Many of our pans have forged bases because your pan shouldn't wobble while you're trying to cook. We love cooking, and we want you to love it, too
